

Dr Jane Adlard

BSc, MSc, PhD.

Consultant Clinical Psychologist

Health Professions Council Registration: PYL01663
British Psychological Society Membership: 149198

Dr Jane Adlard has a number of years of experience relating to forensic psychology, both in practice and in academia. She is currently the Programme Director for the MSc Forensic Psychology at Sheffield Hallam University, and is a registered practitioner psychologist as well as BPS chartered. Dr Adlard undertakes consultancy work carrying out risk assessments for parole hearings, and for sentencing and courts. She has recently completed the Forensic and Occupational Test User training and is on the BPS Register of Test users. Dr Adlard's main areas of work are carrying out HCR20 assessments, RSVP and SARA. She also has training in the use of the IPDE. Dr Adlard is a qualified supervisor for trainee forensic psychologists. She has also conducted research into the experience of prisoners on indeterminate sentences, and would be keen to work with that group, as she has a good understanding of the needs of those offenders.

PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

| | |
|-------------|--|
| 2017 | PhD, Southampton Solent |
| 2006 | PGCTLHE, Southampton Solent University |
| 2001 | MSc Applied Forensic Psychology, University of Leicester |
| 1994 | PGCE Primary, University of Leicester |
| 1991 | BSc Psychology, University of Wales |

WORK HISTORY

2017 – Present Program Director, MSc Forensic Psychology – Sheffield Hallam University

Teaching on a range of units involving forensic psychology; planning, managing and implementing the MSc in Forensic Psychology. Supervision of dissertation students. PhD supervision.

2004 – 17 Senior Lecturer, Southampton Solent University

Teaching on a range of units (see supporting information). Mentoring new colleagues. SSN tutor. Unit leader for several units. Involvement in student recruitment.

2003 – 04 Psychologist, HM Prison Kingston, Portsmouth

Providing parole board and DLP reports for life sentence prisoners. Carrying out assessments. Providing cognitive behavioural group work.

1999 – 03 Psychologist, HM Prison Albany, Isle of White

Providing cognitive behavioural group work. Carrying out assessments. Providing parole reports. Involvement in sentence planning. Working with officers to look at risk assessment of prisoner correspondence. Working with the area drugs coordinator.

SPECIALIST TRAINING AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- 2020 Forensic and Occupational Test User Training
- 2013 Risk for Sexual Violence Protocol Training
- 2013/19 Supervision Skills
- 2013 Clinical Risk Assessment and Management: The Critical Role of Formulation
- 2014 Training in the IPDE ICD 10 Module: DSM-V Alternatives Model: Integrated Formulation for Personality
- 2015 Expert Witness: Essential Knowledge of Being an Expert Witness: Expert Witness: Report Writing